

Candidates hit campaign trail

And now its election countdown as the candidates vying for positions on local councils throughout the county start the fight against the clock as time is running out before election day which is slated for Monday, December 2. They must make their moves now in an effort to woo the voters.

There are some real good races shaping as there will be elections in eight townships and the only centre without an election this year will be in the township of Sherbourne, McClintock and Livingston where the new Reeve Douglas Russell, who was deputy reeve, moves up to take over as reeve by acclamation as Art Locke a long time reeve of that township retires. Fred Baum moves in for deputy reeve and the council and board of education are all in by acclamation.

In Anson, Hindon and Minden the incumbent reeve Reg Booth will be opposed by another Minden businessman Bill O'Brien. This should shape up into a real contest before its all over. Doug Pritchard the deputy reeve will have opposition this year from Shirley Brandon who ran before and only lost out by 14 votes in a three-way fight along with Allen Cooper. Eight people will be trying for the three seats on council. The two seats on the board of education will be contested by the present two sitting members Lloyd Johnson and Len Lonsberry and Barbara Elder will be trying to unseat one of these members.

Malcolm McGillivray has been acclaimed reeve once again in Cardiff and MacPeters is in as deputy reeve. Goldie Watson is back on the Board of Education and five people will be in the running for the three council seats.

There are two good races lines up in Dysart as Roy Brohm, former reeve, Lloyd Coneybeare, long-time member in Ward 2 and newcomer Gerald Barry will all be in the running for the position as deputy reeve. And in Ward 2 plenty of more action as John Johnson, Nancy O'Neil and Gary McKnight fight it out for that council seat. Murray Fearrey, former deputy reeve is now the new reeve by acclamation and Harold Bannon in Ward 1 and Lawrence Morrison retain their seats on council by acclamation. The four sitting school board members Rick Poole, Len Salvatori, Dorothy Way, Dennis Waymouth are all back by acclamation.

Robert Fotheringham is back as reeve of Glamorgan and Norman Locke the incumbent deputy reeve will be opposed by Roy Breen. They both ran in the 1972 election with Locke being the winner. Seven will be in the running for the three council seats and Julie Hunter will oppose Vaneita Pickens for the one seat on the Board of Education.

Bob Beeney did not stand again for reeve of Lutterworth and Pat Conaghan has been acclaimed reeve. Lloyd Walker has been returned by acclamation as deputy reeve and Noman Gilmore is back on the Board of Education. Four are in the running for the three council seats.

Gary Agnew once again has been returned as reeve in Monmouth and Keith Tallman is back as deputy reeve while Ross H. Anderson is unopposed for his seat on the Board of Education. It's a big run for three council seats as seven people are in the running.

In Snowdon Incumbent reeve Robert Vick will have opposition for this position from Jean Jennings and Gareth Kellett. Ron Graham and Grace Simmons will fight it out for the position of deputy reeve and Ralph Young is back on the Board of Education by acclamation. John Francis was the only man nominated for council and nominations are open for more people to stand for this position.

Those two old rivals Sinc Nesbitt and Fred Brooks will be fighting it out once again to see who is going to be reeve in Stanhope. Sinc Nesbitt is the incumbent. Jim Harrison has been returned as deputy reeve by acclamation. Six people are in the running for the three council seats. There is a race for the two seats on the Board of Education with three in the running namely, Evelyn (Hewitt) Gibson, Wilfred Mason and Beverly Pettes.

Two flags stolen

Two new flags were placed on the flag pole at the Cenotaph in Haliburton for Remembrance Day, November 11.

Since that time the flags have been stolen and all that is left is the flag pole and the rope.

This isn't the first time that flags have been stolen from this location, but it is time the hoodlums who are stealing these flags were brought to justice.

Correction

In last week's election report, renominations of the various townships, we were in error on three names. In Monmouth Township under deputy reeve we had Mrs Karl Tallman and it should have read Keith Tallman.

Under reeve in Stanhope township we had S. H. Nesbitt and it should have read S.G. Nesbitt. For Board of Education the name Beverly Tettes should have read Beverly Pettes.

We are sorry if this caused any inconvenience to the above candidates.

Wreckage of plane

Missing since September 1973

Plane located near hunt camp

The remains of two men found by the wreckage of a Champ aircraft, 12 miles northwest of here have been positively identified by officials as Sisto Amadio and Ronald Barrow, missing since September 16, 1973.

Mr Amadio, 37, of Niagara Falls and Ronald Barrow, 37, of Hazel Park, Mich., were flying from St. Catharines over a hunting camp just a couple of miles from the crash scene. For reasons unknown at the present, the plane crashed into one side of a gully-like formation ending with its tail almost straight up in the air and its white body almost completely camouflaged by birch trees.

The wreckage was located about 250 yards from Little Millward Lake, a puddle created by beaver dams cutting the flow from Millward Lake.

The hunting camp, where often 15 men congregated between rifle-borne jaunts into the bush, is located only a few miles from the crash site.

Hunters roam throughout the area and it came as a bit of a surprise that someone had not found the craft earlier.

The plane was in a dense clump of white birch trees on a knoll of a hill, a color combination that defied an intensive air search last fall which involved both private and Air Force planes.

John Belme, the pilot who located the wreckage "told me you had to be flying in a certain direction and angle to see the plane," said Mrs Amadio, widow of the victim. "It was just one of those things to casually glance down and see it when such a concentrated air search failed last year."

Mrs Amadio said that Belme never did give up his search for the missing plane. "John always said he would bring them home," she said. "And he finally did."

However these men could not see the plane from their pedestrian positions and the plane was so well hidden they would not stumble upon it.

"They crashed so very close to the hunting camp," said Mrs Amadio, "and yet they were never spotted." She said the forest was so dense there that during one hunting trip she and her husband became lost "and walked for five hours, trying to locate the camp, when we were only eight minutes away from it".

She said a major fear of the searchers would be that the bodies would not be near the plane and another search would have to be mounted

Man killed in accident

Lyle Harvey Coumbs age 27 of Wilberforce, Ontario was killed on Monday morning at approximately 11:30 a.m. when he was loading a dump truck at Percy Lake using a front-end loader and working against an embankment.

He reversed the loader to dump the shovel into the dump truck. A tree on the top of the embankment he had been working against began to topple, he jumped off the loader to avoid the tree but a heavy limb on the top of the tree caught him across the lower back pinning him to the ground.

Mr Coumbs was discovered at 11:35 a.m. by his employer Charlie Hurd. He died at the scene shortly thereafter, before the ambulance arrived.

Constable Jim Martin assisted by Corporal Baker of the Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated.

The coroner was Dr. H.E. Good of Haliburton.

Last year the Guild of Fine Arts sponsored a Christmas Exhibition and Sale, the accompanying pictures were taken at this show and depict some of the interesting articles which were for sale. This pre-Christmas Sale was very successful and many people remarked that it should be held earlier so visitors could do some Christmas shopping. The members of the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts will be busy in the next couple of weeks in preparation for this event. Local potters, weavers and artists will be exhibiting and selling their crafts. Some work of the children of Lakeview Centre will also be on display. This Show will be held on Thursday November 28 through until Sunday December 1. For times see our ad under Coming Events. You are invited to visit this attractive display of hand-crafted items and get in the mood for Christmas!

In Stanhope

Meet the candidates

Stanhope Township's "Meet the Candidates" night held at Hall's Lake, Club 35, on Saturday evening, November 16, was the most successful of these meetings to be held so far, with about 80 residents in attendance.

There is an impressive list of candidates standing for election as Reeve, Councillor and School Board Trustee eleven in all.

The audience heard the incumbent members review their work over the past two years and the qualitative results of that work. The new contenders spoke of their interest in the affairs of the Township, their reasons for running for office, and the contribution they would hope to make.

In the question period which followed, a very high level of interest was shown by the audience in the many and varied questions they put to the candidates.

At the close of the meeting doughnuts and coffee were served by Doreen and Leonard Stinson -- a pleasant ending to an interesting and informative meeting.

New Horizons grant announced

The Honourable J. H. Faulkner, Secretary of State, is pleased to announce the approval of a grant under the New Horizons Program, on behalf of the Minister of National Health and Welfare.

A grant in the amount of $3,420 will go to the Kinnmount Senior Citizens Club of Kinnmount, Ontario, which has requested a grant to establish a drop-in centre offering recreational opportunities in the form of chess, carpet bowling, films, bingo and assorted table games. A craft program will be introduced, initially in the sewing category, crocheting, knitting, etc. It is also their desire to eventually publish a newsletter.

This project, entitled "Kinnmount Go-Getters", will involve 27 people, and is under the sponsorship of the Kinnmount Senior Citizens Club.

Bill O'Brien will be opposing the incumbent Reg Booth for the position as reeve in the township

Haliburton man receives incentive scholarship

Gerald McElwain, son of Mr and Mrs Wilson McElwain of Haliburton has received an Undergraduate Incentive Scholarship from Wilfred Laurier University at Waterloo, Ontario. These scholarships are awarded for academic excellence in undergraduate years including the preliminary year. Their normal value is $400.00.

Fifty Proficiency Scholarships, each with an annual value of $250 also were awarded. They went to students entering the university with a 75 per cent average or better in Grade 13.

Faculty-Board and Proficiency Scholarships were won by 60 Grade 12 students entering WLU on a special program. Each attended Summer Session, taking two credit courses, before entering the first year of university this fall.

Guest speaker

Dr. Edward Christiansen of Haliburton will be the guest speaker when the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen holds its monthly meeting and communion at St. Georges Anglican Church in Haliburton on Sunday, November 24 at 8 a.m.

Dr. Christiansen, who has been in Haliburton for about six years, is a well-travelled man and his talk should be most interesting.

for the wandering fliers.

John and Merv (Hunter) went into the crash site and made the identification on the plane while my sister and I remained at the OPP station," she said. "When he (John) came back he said there was absolutely no doubt that was it. And he should know because he and Sis built the plane from the ground up."

She said there was little trouble identifying the two because of the physical differences in their height. "There are very few guys of 6' 5" and 5' 6" that chum around with one another, so it was easy to make an immediate conclusion," she said. "They also located Sisto's wallet, shoes and jacket plus the fact our dentist said he would be sending dental records to the police for positive proof."

Barro was identified by a wrist watch and a relative will be coming from Michigan to make the final identification.

John Belme of Niagara Falls, a close friend of one of the victims was piloting the plane that spotted the wreckage Wednesday morning, November 13.

He said he had come to the area sporadically to search, but for a year had been unsuccessful. Accompanying him on this trip was another Niagara Falls resident, Marvin Hunter.

Mr Belme steered his aircraft toward Lake St. John about 8:30 a.m. from the Bobcaygeon area and "decided to take another shot at it".

He said he was flying along the path of a hydro line near a hunters' camp by Millward Lake in Anson Township when he pointed earthward and said, "This is the last place Sis (Mr. Amadio) was seen".

"There's a plane!", Mr.

Hunter said, motioning to a vague area in the bush.

"It was very difficult to see," Mr. Belme explained. "It was in a gully and the angle of the aircraft had to be just so because the plane was lying vertical".

From there, Mr Belme headed his airplane to Lake St. John where he could get fuel and then proceeded back to the crash vicinity to pinpoint the exact spot on aeronautical maps.

He contacted police that day, but officers from the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial police were unable to locate the craft on the ground in the dark.

Mr Belme went up again Thursday and directed the search party from the air.

He returned to the ground and joined the search party.

When the party reached the plane, it found the remains of the two men about 80 feet from each other.

There was evidence that animals had got into the plane and at the bodies. Little but the skeletons and clothing remained.

Mr Belme guessed that the men died upon impact, but it was his opinion that the craft was in flying condition when it crashed.

The group at the crash site moved the wreckage and laid it flat on the ground and then dismantled parts of the plane...

Haliburton coroner, Dr. Ed Christiansen was one of the men in the party, but later refused to comment on his findings.

The ground party that found the plane had two investigators from the ministry of transport as well as OPP officers from Minden and the coroner.

Information officer for the ministry, Jack Shelton said today, investigators from the ministry are sifting through the wreckage in an effort to determine the cause of the crash.

He said the craft has definitely been identified as the one missing a year ago last September from Niagara Falls and the bodies found at the crash site are being transferred to Toronto for positive identification.

The Canadian Armed Forces started the search September 17, 1973 and called a halt eight days later until the leaves fell for a different aerial perspective. The search began again October 29 and was cut-off because of snow November 8.

In total CAF and private craft logged more than 400 hours and covered 36,000 miles in the search.

Haliburton Legion president resigns

Les Roberts of Haliburton has resigned from his position as president of the Haliburton Branch 129 of the Royal Canadian Legion. His resignation came about following the accident suffered by his son and he felt that his duties as president would suffer at this time.

Arnold Pennycook the Vice-President felt that due to ill health that he could not step up to the position of president.

A former president of the Legion and always a hard worker for the organization, Roy Bates stepped in to fill the position as president. Roy was a past president and served in this position for two years in 1971 and 1972. He was secretary of the branch for five years. Roy will finish out the term until the Legion election in May of 1975.

The Minden Monarchs Intermediate hockey club is off to a slow start in the Intermediate "C" O.H.A. league and with the talent on the club some of the local hockey fans are wondering why they aren't winning more games. If you are a hockey fan you must stop and realize that they are in a very tough league and every team they face is stocked with some top-notch talent. It is unfortunate that they aren't in Intermediate "D" a step lower than "C" but there weren't enough teams to form a league. The season is still young yet and we look for bigger things from the Monarchs as the season moves along.

Along the trails

By Roy Bates

I now have the complete statement by the Hon. Allan Grossman announcing the governments policy on recreational trails and snowmobile legislation. It looks good. The scare created by early reporters was unjustified. Even I fell for it. New laws MAY make it possible to come down hard on the irresponsible snowmobiler who rides willy-nilly over anything in his way, but it should not be a hardship for snowmobile clubs or snowmobilers using the proper degree of common sense and respect for the rights and property of others.

Don't sell that sled just yet. The future looks brighter than ever!

The government, according to Mr Grossman, will establish an extensive network of recreational trails throughout the Province. It will also establish a trails council to assist in the development of the complete system made up from various recreational organizations ... outdoor sports groups ... conservationists ... farmers ... and interested bodies.

Unfortunately, the Government has procrastinated for so long that the trails council will not be ready to make recommendations on the establishment of snowmobile trails for this winter. However, Mr Grossman assures us, the Government does intend to start work immediately on this urgent aspect of the trails program.

The Ministry of Natural Resources, through its 48 district offices, is now drawing up a complete inventory of existing snowmobile trails throughout Ontario. The Ministry will map trail routes and, during the winter, will identify and help maintain such routes by packing the snow with grooming machines. The Government is actively seeking the help and co-operation of snowmobile clubs in this work, and invites interested groups to contact the nearest district office of the Ministry.

The HCSA may now begin to enjoy the fruits of its labours. With some 400 trail miles already mapped and with a grooming project well-advanced, we can expect to be well received at the Minden and Huntsville offices of the Ministry of Natural Resources.

An open meeting with the OFSC will be sponsored by the Hill and Gully Riders of Port Sydney, Saturday, December 7, at 2:00 p.m. in Pine Lodge at Port Sydney. Members of the HCSA are invited to attend. Here is your

HALIBURTON HIGHLANDS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce had a modest beginning approximately forty years ago with a Tourist Council started by a group of farsighted businessmen of the Highlands who saw the need of a County body to promote the attractions and benefits of the Haliburton Highlands to any prospective visitors. This Tourist Council incorporated with the Chamber of Commerce some years ago and has provided promotion of both social and economic development for the entire county.

Besides the operation of the information booth, maps and promotional literature are prepared and distributed to all parts of the continent. All inquiries to the Chamber office, whether they be for accommodations, buying property, goods, or services, are promptly answered and those who are members of the Chamber of Commerce are recommended.

One of the more recent changes has been the formation throughout the Province of Regional Tourist Councils provided with small government grants to help with promotional costs. Other Chambers of Commerce represent single municipalities, whereas the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce operates on a County wide basis. Now that the government has withdrawn grants to Regional Councils in favour of larger Travel Area associations, the Haliburton Highlands Chamber will have to depend on increased membership and involvement of Municipal and County councils for funds to continue its promotion.

The work of the Chamber is carried out by a full time Manager and part-time secretarial help under the direction of twelve directors who are elected each year at the Annual Membership Meeting, generally held in May. In addition to directors elected from the membership, two County Council representatives are appointed with full privileges.

All persons are welcomed as members of the Chamber of Commerce, with a schedule of membership fees scaled in accordance with the size of business represented or on a personal basis, and all members are eligible to vote and be elected to the Board of Directors.

Motor vehicle accidents down

Figures released by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications indicate that during the first six months of 1974 the number of motor vehicle collisions involving fatalities and the number of traffic deaths in Ontario were down 10 per cent as compared to the first half of 1973.

During the same period collisions involving injuries increased 1.6 per cent, from 29,777 to 30,258 and the overall number of injuries rose less than one per cent to 44,348, while the number of motorcycle drivers injured increased by 23.2 per cent and the number of motorcycle passengers injured increased by 9.5 per cent.

Transportation and Communications Minister John Rhodes said that over the past 10 years vehicle registrations increased by nearly 60 per cent while the number of licensed drivers increased by over 42 per cent.

He added: "In 1973, 3.8-million Ontario motorists travelled an estimated 37.7-billion miles, an increase of 8.3 per cent over 1972, while the death-rate per 100-million vehicle miles travelled dropped fractionally from 5.5 to 5.2."

Statistics relating to motor vehicle collisions are contained in the 1973 Highway Traffic Collision Report released today.

The 1973 statistics show slight increases in almost every category over 1972. There were 193,021 reported motor vehicle collisions -- an increase of 1.9 per cent, as compared to the 19.3 per cent shown in the previous year.

Letter to the editor

Dear Sir:

Few people realize that the votes cast on December 2/74 will call for the most serious thought on the part of the electors of the townships comprising Haliburton County.

The men chosen for membership in the various township councils throughout the county for the next two years, will have to come to grips with the task of formulating a restructuring plan which will be acceptable to the County and to the Province of Ontario.

This restructuring of the County calls for amalgamation of townships into larger administrative and geographic areas - with a consequent reduction in the number of townships or municipalities making up the County of Haliburton.

This can only mean the disappearance of some townships as they are absorbed entirely or in part by neighbouring municipalities.

Thus voters should realize the importance of electing a Reeve, and a Deputy Reeve who will best represent their municipality at the County level, and during the next years of consultations at local, county and provincial levels leading to restructuring of the County.

As a resident of Stanhope Township I am aware that with no debt load and a high assessment this township would be a valuable acquisition for those areas of the County that carry a heavy debt burden and are eager to find a new source of assessment on which to unload some of their burden.

To minimize this possibility the electors in Stanhope Township should seriously consider returning Reeve Nesbitt for another term.

The Deputy Reeve Jim Harrison has been given an acclamation.

The choices for councilmen should certainly be made from dependable men who can be relied on to conscientiously attend the meetings of Council and the various committees.

Yours Truly
A.F. Stevenson

Interesting election contests shaping up

Nominations in the various Municipalities are over and now the candidates are hitting the campaign trails in an effort to win over the voters by Election day which is Monday, December 2nd.

There is an election in eight municipalities in the county and in looking over the forms there will be some very interesting contests shaping up.

In every election whether it be Federal, Provincial or Municipal it seems that it is very hard to get the voters interested enough to come out to the polls and vote.

In this democratic system everyone has been given the right to vote and this in itself is a privilege when you consider the many countries in the world who are deprived of this privilege.

In looking over the voters list and the many names that appear on them it makes you wonder when you see just how few really get out and vote.

May we remind everyone of the advance poll that is coming up and this gives everyone the opportunity to exercise their franchise if they cannot be here on election day.

We urge everyone who has a vote in municipal elections to get out and vote. Plan on it now and make sure you show up at the polls.

BILL SMILEY

It's a gay mad whirl

LET's see. Where am I? I know I was going to make a pointed, telling attack this week on one of the great evils of our society. But I can't remember what it was.

Maybe that's because I have three exams to set, eleventy-four essays to mark, my bricks are falling out, along with my fillings, and my wife, who has just given me a thrilling account of how she couldn't get the car started, is going to the hospital tomorrow.

Ah, well, c'est la vie, as the Chinese say. You can't have everything running like clockwork in a world in which the most sensible creatures seem to be cockroaches.

I also have forty-four letters to answer, six vital telephone calls to make, a speech to write, and a grandbabby to bring up.

Then there are about seven thousand pounds of oak leaves to rake and bag. I think I'll send them to Bangla-Desh. Surely somebody there knows how to make oak leaf and acorn soup. Don't think I'm being hard and cynical. There's a lot of protein in those acorns. And I have 28 squirrels, not counting children, in my attic to prove it.

Maybe you think this is just the whining of a middleaged man, who can't cope with life. Well, you're right.

My bricks are falling out. Or they are being sucked out, by the gentle vines of this old Georgian house, which are about as gentle as a giant squid. The roofer said, "Geez, Bill, your bricks are loose." It sounds sort of obscene, like, "You have rocks in your head." But it's not. They're falling out. (Or being knocked out by the clumsy roofers and painters. Sh-h-h-h.)

And my fillings are falling out as fast as I can, or my dentist can, put them in. He's a nice guy, and the most painless dentist I have ever had, for which I will cling to him until teeth do us depart, but you can't build pine trees out of stumps.

And then there's my grandbabby. You'd think I would not worry about him when he's a hundred miles away. But I do.

How do I know those young sillies in the daycare centre are teaching him the right things. Do they know how to ride him on a jigging foot to the tune of, "Did You Ever Go Into An Irishman's Shanty, Where Money Is Scarce and Whiskey Is Plenty?"

Do they know how to let him chew their thumb while at the same time whistling in his belly and waving his bare foot in the air to the tune of "Knees Up, Mother Brown"?

Well, maybe the young sillies aren't doing too badly, as long as there are three of them to one of him. At least they're not trying to unteach him the good things he's learned from his gramps.

Had a call from his mother last Sunday. She made it from a phone booth, as Mother Bell has not smiled on them yet. Asked her where the baby was. She responded coolly that he was on her knee, tearing pages out of the telephone directory.

He loves tearing up books, especially those of sacred institutes, like the Bell. I started him off with the inane coloured sections of the Saturday papers. He seemed to thrive on it, ripping them apart with gusto, relish, and any ketchup that happened to be around.

I thought it wise to move him up to telephone books, police reports, politicians' speeches, beer labels and such examples of Canadian culture. Turns out he's a boy after my own heart.

Go to it, Pokey. His real name is Nicov Chen, but I tacked Pokey on him, and it has stuck. He pokes into everything that is moving, or still. If it's moving, he stops it; if it's still, he makes it move, grinning fiendishly all the time.

I tell you, it's a gay, mad whirl around here. Just now I was interrupted by two pretty girls at the front door, rakes in hand. I'd forgotten about them. They'd come to rake my leaves. For money, of course. Couldn't get any boys.

In the past week I have also dealt with sixteen students who are obvious flunkers, one irate parent, several disgruntled teachers, and one invitation to judge a beauty contest.

To top it off, in today's mail came an election flyer, from Ray Argyle, who syndicates this column, announcing his run for school trustee. He must be out of his nut.

Everybody seems to be going a bit mad these days, but I'll lay odds that I get there before the rest of you.

Haliburton Speed Wash is hit by vandalism

There have been several break-ins reported at the Haliburton Speed Wash at Haliburton and the owners who have just recently installed all new equipment and made many repairs are getting fed up with this vandalism.

The owners told the Echo that the next time that anyone is caught causing vandalism at the Speed Wash that they will definitely press charges and we don't blame them.

To show just how serious they are about this matter the owners are offering a $100.00 reward for information leading to the arrest or conviction of persons causing this damage.

During the past few weeks the pop machine has been broken into several times, machines damaged and the soap-vender machine has been broken into and soap stolen and thrown all over the floor at the Speed Wash and out on the parking lot.

The new owners have done a great job of renovating and putting in new equipment at the Speed Wash and it seems a crime that some of these hooligans have nothing better to do with their time than to go in and wreck the building.

The Speed Wash is rendering a great service to this community and lets hope that the vandalism being caused here will be halted. A word to the wise should be sufficient.

Using electricity wisely isn't just a matter of avoiding waste.

Being watchful to avoid the frittering away of kilowatthours is everyone's concern, in the interest of economy and conservation of valuable energy resources.

But for some people, living in older homes with outdated wiring, restricted use of appliances is not always a matter of choice. They do not have sufficient circuits to serve normal needs without resorting to 'octopus' outlets and extension cords. The result: overloading and blowing of fuses.

These conditions also tend to diminish the performance of appliances and shortens their life.

Inadequate wiring is not only inconvenient, it can be a safety hazard. If you have any doubts about the capacity of your home's wiring have it checked by a qualified Electrical Contractor. Then, use electricity wisely... and safely.

Believe it or not! Tom Murray discovers siamese pine tree

By Ross S. Beagan

In a September 1956 issue of the Toronto Daily Star, Ripley featured a "siamese" hardwood tree growing in Germany. A limb from one tree had grafted itself to the trunk of another. It was, perhaps, the only such specimen in the world!

Another one of gigantic proportions, and even more spectacular, has been found in Canada. It is located south of highway 60 near the village of Madawaska, Ontario, eighteen miles east of Algonquin Park.

It was discovered by an equally amazing man. His name is Thomas Patrick Murray, the 94 year old founder of Murray Brothers Lumber Company of Barry's Bay, Renfrew County.

"I first noticed the tree", he said, "thirty years ago. A porcupine was lying asleep where the two pine trees were joined -- come along and I'll show you the place myself".

A four mile drive ended near the top of a steep hill providing a commanding view of Bark Lake. With the agility of a man one-half his 94 years, he led the way through a rain-soaked forest, and down a slithering slope to the valley floor below.

There it stood -- the most amazing freak of nature ever seen! Two ninety foot white pines stood joined together twenty feet above the ground to form a perfect letter "H"!

The Ministry of Natural Resources has nominated the tree on behalf of Mr. Murray to the "unusual" class of trees sought by the Ontario Forestry Association for its "Honour Roll of Trees".

This is a fitting honour to a grand old man who has devoted almost a century to Ontario forest industry.

Thomas Murray is living history. He has lived through the age of sail, the age of the horse, the age of steam, the electro-mechanical age, the atomic age, and the space age. He has been a pioneer, a woodsman, a businessman, a 16 year member of the Ontario Legislature, a philosopher, an athlete, a naturalist, a gentleman, and an eternal optimist.

THE GREAT PINE TREE BY THOMAS P. MURRAY

A great pine tree in the valley stood,
A relic for so many years,
A story told so sad and so cold,
That it brought the eyes to tears.

It told how it grew from a little seed,
Away up to the sky,
And how birds all would rest in the fall,
For points down south to fly.

How it felt the warmth of the summer's sun,
As it saw the forest grow,
And then the cold when the summer's old,
And the woods are frost and snow.

It saw the Indian passing by centuries ago,
With a cunning step and steady hand,
To guide both arrow and bow.

It heard the cracks of the workman's axe,
Over on yonder hill,
It hears the howl of the wolf and the owl,
As they roamed around the kill.

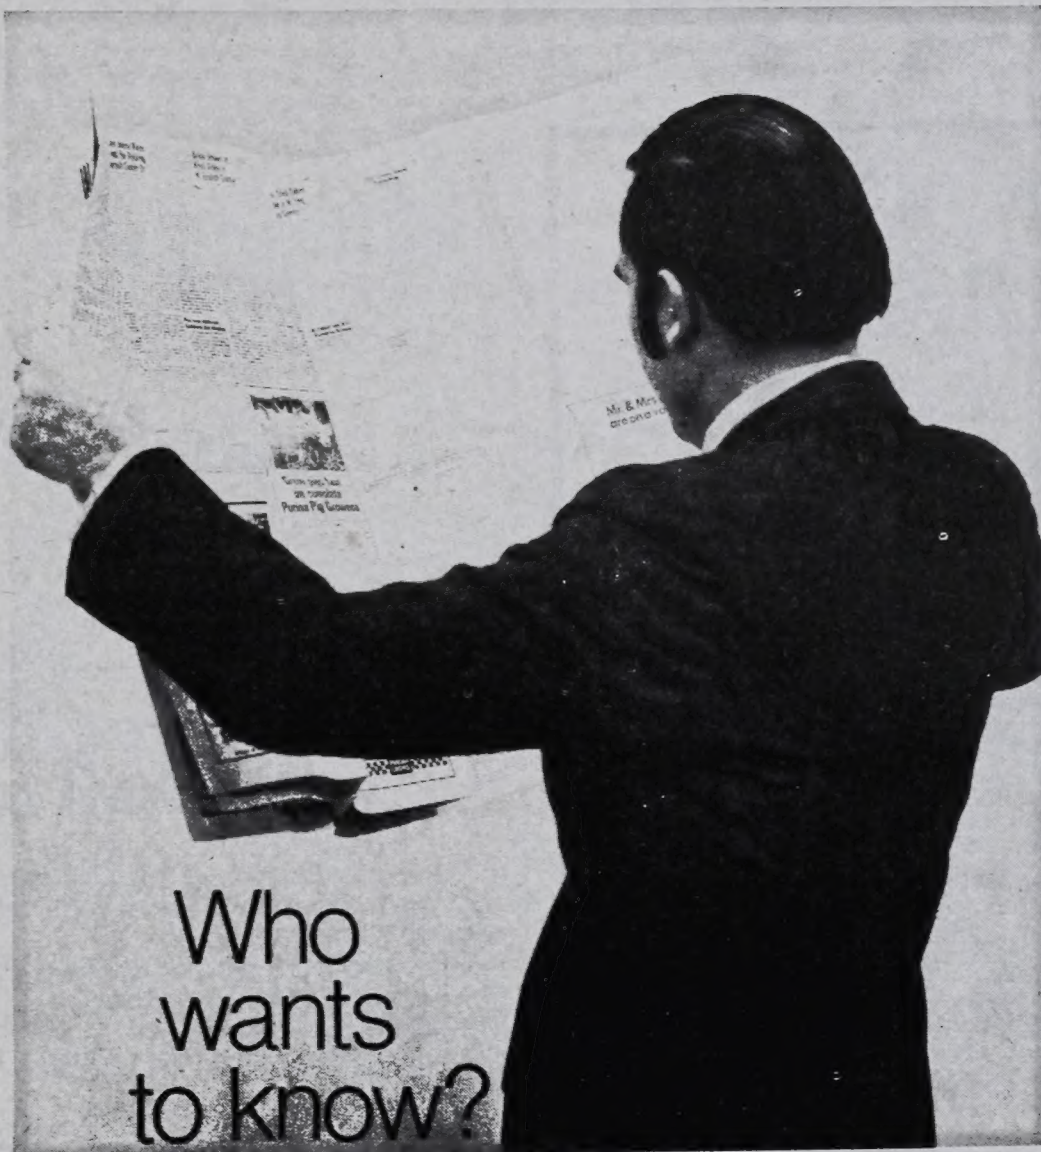

It saw the flame of the forest fire,
As it swept across the plain,
How it welcomed the sighs of the western skies,
With promising signs of rain.

As the old pine tree grew stout and tall,
The older and wiser it grew,
And stories could tell to surprise us all well,
If we could know what the old tree knew.

OPP will watch Sunday trucking

Sunday trucking through the village of Donald, near Haliburton, caused Minden OPP detachment to focus its attention on that area Sunday afternoon, November 10.

Constable Michael Legge was dispatched to investigate the complaint from a village resident when heavy trucks carrying sand and (or) gravel began passing through the settlement.

The officer said afterwards that it is a technical offence to truck anything but perishable goods on the sabbath and that the offense comes under the Lord's Day Act. However, he also noted that laying a charge under this section of the act is not a cut and dried procedure. The investigating officer first obtains particulars of the incident and forwards them to the attorney-general's office where they are reviewed and the decision made as to whether or not the alleged offender is to be charged. This sometimes takes several weeks, Constable Legge said, and it is very often the owner of the trucks and not the drivers against whom charges are preferred.

RUGS MISSING

Among the other things the detachment was called in to investigate over the weekend was the theft of two rugs from Silver Maple Motel, Haliburton. Valued at $80, they were of the shag type 3 x 5 and 2 x 4 in size and red and autumn burst in color.

NO THEFT

Then there was the case of a missing pig, at first believed to have been stolen and later found not to have been. A report of a stolen boat also turned out to be an error.

The boat had been taken by mistake and returned, at which time the person taking it sailed happily off in his own craft.

Environment Ontario goes local.

6 new regional offices to serve individual communities better.

In a province the size of ours, it can take two days just to drive from one end to another.

It's that big, it's that spread out. And looking after the environment for such a vast area is one of the most complex tasks that the Ontario Government has.

For years, we've been working from Toronto, working at long distances from many of you.

That's all changed now. The Ministry of the Environment has come to you.

Environmental matters are now being looked after in six Regional Offices throughout the province. There are also 23 district offices to help keep a closer eye on environmental services—air, land and water.

Each region has a Director, someone whose only job is to care for the environmental needs of that specific "piece" of Ontario. The Regional Office for Central Ontario, which encompasses

Paul Cockburn

Metropolitan Toronto, the Regional Municipalities of Halton, Peel, York, Durham, Muskoka, and the Counties of Simcoe, Northumberland, Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton, is in Don Mills. The Director in charge is Mr. P.G. Cockburn. District offices are already established in Barrie, Gravenhurst, Peterborough, Oakville and Toronto.

Paul Cockburn is a professional engineer who has had many years experience working in environmental management. He's familiarizing himself with the environmental needs of the Central Region—as part of Ontario's new policy to place environmental control closer to the source.

Good Old Days 1922

Here I am telling you
A story from this town
One good thing about it,
It never let us down.

My dad was a contractor
In the good old days of yore.
Mother did the cooking
And I did the chores

When I was eight years old
I washed plates for twenty men.
It seemed I washed and washed,
There seemed to be no end.

I did enjoy my work
Until a few years later.
Then dad tried a new job
And became a bootlegger.

I remember old Art Batchelar
First time dad was caught.
Art took dad and brother Frank;
Both were handcuffed.

Next day he went to Court,
Paid one thousand dollar fine.
He came home the very next day
And started making wine.

I was fed up with dad's nonsense.
I couldn't get away too soon.
I found a boarding place
Right by the Eagle Lake School.

My school days were wonderful.
We had fun by galore.
There was only ten of us
And there wasn't any more.

Dear old Granny Hunter
Sure looked after me.
When I came down with a cold
She would give me catnip tea.

I sure hated the old stuff,
But she was good to me.
That was the only remedy those days,
The good old catnip tea.

Report from Parliament

By William C Scott, MP

Last week the House of Commons dealt again with the matter of whether or not to extend the life of the Veterans Land Act. It was probably the last time that we will debate the issue, unless the government decides, before the expiry date of V.L.A., to extend the program or replace it with something else.

The House set aside other business to debate an Opposition Motion for two days. The motion called on the government to extend the Act, and to change its terms of reference to make it conform to present-day conditions in the housing market. The motion was defeated by the narrow margin of 112 to 94, with members voting along party lines.

For several years the Veterans Land Act has attracted fewer and fewer applicants for home loans. The main reasons have been the low ceiling of $18,000 on loans, and the fact that V.L.A. regulations require a minimum lot size for homes of about four tenths of an acre.

Immediately after World War 2, $18,000 would have bought a pretty nice home, and, lots of the size required by V.L.A. were fairly common. Today, though, $18,000 is hardly enough to pay half the cost of an average home. And, with the steady rise in land costs in the past few years, lots of four tenths of an acre are non-existent in most parts of the country, and even if one could be found, the cost of the lot would be prohibitive.

We in the Conservative Opposition have urged the government for years to change the V.L.A. with regard to lot size requirements, and to raise the ceiling on loans to about $35,000. We also wanted the down payment requirement of V.L.A. reduced.

Through the years the National Housing Act has been up-dated from time to time, and today a person can get an N.H.A. loan of up to $30,000, with a down payment of five per cent of that figure. A veteran who receives a loan under the V.L.A. actually gets only $15,400, because he would have to make a down payment of $2,600 in order to get the maximum loan. By comparison, a person who borrows $30,000 under the N.H.A. would only have to make a down payment of five per cent, or $1,500.

It was a breach of faith, and a rejection of a pledge made to our veterans by the King government when the Liberal caucus in the House voted against extending V.L.A. It was a rejection of the obligation that we as a nation owe to those who fought in our wars.

About 140,000 veterans across the country hold certificates of eligibility for loans under the V.L.A., but in recent years it has been impossible for them to take advantage of the program because it has not been up-dated to keep it in line with housing and land costs.

It would have been a very simple matter for the government to ask Parliament to change the terms of reference of V.L.A., and to extend its life for a few more years. This would have given those veterans a program that was equal to those under the N.H.A.

While it is true that the original concept of V.L.A. was to help returning veterans settle on small holdings, in rural areas, it is now more than 20 years since the last war that Canadians have been involved in. We should now be thinking of how we can help those men and women to establish retirement homes for themselves. This would go at least part of the way in making up to them for not revising the program through the years to make it more meaningful. It is not too late for veterans organizations to make their feelings known.

A visit to Scotland

Part 2

By S. Armstrong Goff

Two weeks is not enough to see all the facets of Scotland but some things are immediately apparent. Possibly the first impression is the courtesy of the people. It is more than courtesy when it is known that one is a Canadian. Courtesy then becomes downright friendliness. The Scot never intrudes upon your privacy, but if you make the first approach the response is immediate and helpful.

While waiting in Glasgow for our luggage to arrive we visited an elderly friend who lived in a beautiful city square of small but well kept houses each with its stone fence and remarkable raised flower gardens. The location of this beautiful block surprised us because it was totally surrounded by an industrial area.

Since we had planned on visiting the Isle of Skye we made arrangements to go by bus. The ride turned out to be somewhat of an endurance test, but did not lack interest. The road had so many twists and turns and was so narrow, that it took an expert driver to miss the outcropping rocks. The foliage at the side of the road was literally brushing the side of the bus and if another bus or a truck was encountered on the road our driver had to come to a dead stop while the other vehicle manoeuvred through.

Once we had passed Loch Lomond with its well wooded islands the landscape soon became barren with only grass and heather on the hills and up the mountainside, with a few tufts of gorse or broom. We reached the Isle of Skye by way of a ferry. The bus was driven aboard the ferry at the Kyle of Lochalsh. After making some enquiries about the latter name I discovered that it meant in common language "a small strait (Kyle) of the Lake (Loch) of Alsh". Having crossed the strait we arrived at the village of Kyleakin on the island.

Interest in the island derives largely from its history. Although there were several castles on the island only the ruins now remain with the exception of Dunvegan Castle which is still in usable condition though now used only as a tourist attraction. It was the ancestral seat of the clan Macleod.

Skye has a long history. It was early inhabited by the Celts and legend has it that Cuchulain the Celtic hero once roamed its hills and mountains. St. Columba visited the island in the sixth century and later Viking war galleys arrived and Skye lived under Norse sway for some four centuries. After the defeat of the Norsemen at the battle of Largs, Skye joined the Kingdom of Scotland. Since that time its ruling families have been the Macleods of Dunvegan in the north and the Macdonalds of Sleat in the south.

In 1746 the island became the final stopping place of Bonnie Prince Charlie after his defeat at Culloden. Flora Macdonald courageously brought him to the island disguised as her maid. Charlie sailed from the village of Portree on the island and escaped to France where he remained for the rest of his life.

Overlooking the pier at Kyleakin is the ruined castle Moil whose name means "Turretless Castle". It is a miniature highland keep reputed to have been built by a Norwegian Princess nicknamed "Saucy Mary" who was the wife of a Macdonald. It is said that she stretched a chain across the Kyle allowing no ship to pass without paying a toll.

Ontario Society for Crippled Children meets

The future of more than 3,500 physically handicapped youngsters in South Central Ontario could well be affected by the first annual regional meeting of Forty-four Easter Seal service clubs on Saturday, November 9, at The Ontario Crippled Children's Centre in Toronto.

Board and staff members of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children met with representatives of both the Easter Seal and the Crippled Children's Committee of the member service clubs of the Society to review plans for next year's Easter Seal campaign and to acquaint members with the Society's future plans for improved services and facilities for handicapped youngsters in their region.

In attendance were volunteers from the following clubs: Ajax, Bolton, Bowmanville, Brampton, Campbellford, Cobourg, Colborne, Downsview, Fairbank, Fenelon Falls, Forest Hill, Haliburton, Havelock, Islington, Leaside, Lindsay, Minden, North Scarborough, Oshawa, Peterborough, Pickering, Port Hope, Rexdale, Weston, Whitby and Woodbridge Rotary; Agincourt, Aurora, Beaverton, Brechin, Brighton, Cannington, Credit Valley, Maple, Markham-Unionville, Newmarket, Pefferlaw, Richmond Hill, Stouffville, Sutton and Thornhill Lions; North York and Uxbridge and Keswick Optimist.

Special emphasis was placed in the need for greater community involvement in establishing or expanding local recreation programs for the handicapped. Among the new or proposed programs discussed was short-term residential care of children to give parents needed relief. The effect of recent changes in the Day Nurseries Act was considered and an outline of future plans for new treatment centres in those regions where facilities are at present inadequate or non-existent.

Local members of the Society's board of directors and the Society's district nurses Miss Bartleman and Miss Hannah from the Peterborough Office, Miss Downey, Miss McNaughton and Mrs Tudor from Mississauga, Miss Donald, Miss McGillis, Miss Klein, Miss Phelen and Mrs. Young from Willowdale and Miss Buck, Miss McEwan and Miss Simms from the Central Office also attended the all-day gathering. New developments for farmers

In recent months, significant developments have been made in the area of agriculture which will be of benefit to every farmer in Ontario. The Farm Products Marketing Board recently announced amendments to the Ontario Producers' Marketing Plan which will allow for the establishment of an Ontario Egg Industry Advisory Committee. This Committee will have the power to advise and make recommendations to the local Board or to any person or organization on such matters as the promotion of greater efficiency and production, the improvement of quality and the improvement of the circulation of market information.

The Honourable William Stewart, the Ontario Minister of Agriculture and Food said that this Committee would be instrumental "in providing all segments of the egg industry with an opportunity to voice their opinions and concerns on the logical future course of this vital segment of our economy". This Committee will permit producers to pull together to provide a stronger and more effective egg industry.

The Ministry of Agriculture and Food recently announced the introduction of the Ontario Beef Calf Loan Programme to help reduce some of the extreme financial pressures currently being experienced by the province's beef calf producers.

Under this new program, guaranteed bank loans will be available to producers of beef feeder calves who reside in Ontario. These loans may be used to pay operating expenses such as mortgage payments, taxes, and to purchase feed, seeds, fertilizers, farm supplies and any other material used in beef cow-calf production.

The loans will be available from December 1, 1974 to March 31, 1975, with the term of the loan being for three years and payable at any time. Loans will be based on the number of calves produced by a farmer and in his ownership on or after August 1, 1974 up to $75 per calf to a maximum of 100 calves.

It is hoped that through this guaranteed loan programme, beef-calf producers will hold their calves over where possible. It is also hoped that beef producers will retain their best breeding stock and cull out and dispose of any undesirable beef cows, replacing them with quality beef heifers.

This programme will go far in assisting farmers to maintain and upgrade the Ontario beef cow herd during this period of depressed feeder calf prices. This will in turn reduce the possibility of the development of a beef scarcity in the next few years.

A few days ago, the Honourable Arthur Meen, Minister of Revenue, introduced substantial amendments to the Land Speculation Tax which will be of great interest to all residents of Ontario.

New developments for farmers

Last spring, I discussed at some length the reasons for the introduction of this tax, and the groups of people which would be directly affected by it. In introducing the Tax, the government made it quite clear that some unforeseen problems would undoubtedly arise which would require correction. The government has continually been checking and refining the Tax to ensure resolution of any inequities in application.

First of all, let us keep firmly in mind the original purpose of the legislation. Speculative activity by many real estate investors was artificially driving up the price of land while adding nothing to its value.

The purpose of the Act was not to raise revenue, but rather to discourage these activities and the effect of the Tax was felt immediately. Frequent review of the Act was always intended in order to zero in more precisely on the problem and avoid transactions which didn't contribute to inflation or put restrictions on housing supply.

One example of refinement in the Tax was seen in the exemption provided for homeowners who rented out one or more rooms. This exemption is retroactive to April 9, 1974. The Tax continues to apply to self-contained apartments in a building even if the owner lives there, and rooms in buildings not occupied by their owners. In addition, the Ministry of Revenue established regional assessment offices across the province in order to decentralize administration of the Tax.

Other major changes are outlined in the Act to Amend the Land Speculation Tax Act, 1974 which is currently being considered by the legislature.

The concept of investment property reduction has been extended to include farm property. This means that any farm which has been in a family for at least 10 years prior to its sale is completely exempt if it is then sold outside the family. Where a farm has been operated for less than 10 years, a farmer can reduce any potential tax by a straight 10 per cent cumulatively. There are, in addition, provisions for further reductions based on maintenance costs incurred on a farm.

I feel confident that these changes will go far in eliminating misunderstanding or confusion felt by farmers about the effect of the tax on them.

Obituaries

Dr. William Allan VanDeusen Dafoe

A funeral service was held yesterday for Dr. William Allan Van Deusen Dafoe, 80, former head of Wellesley Hospital's department of obstetrics and gynecology, who died Tuesday after a lengthy illness.

Dr. Dafoe was the son of a country doctor and brother of Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe who became world famous in 1934 when he delivered the Dionne quintuplets at Calander, Ont.

Dr. Allan, who died in 1943, often said the daily telephone calls and advice from his brother "kept the girls alive" during the first critical days after their birth.

Dr. William kept a day-by-day record of the first months of the quints and other doctors commented at the time that no children in history had been studied as closely as the little girls.

Dafoe, born in Madoc, taught school in Hastings County before enrolling in the University of Toronto medical school in 1914. He interrupted his studies to join the World War I army and, as a private, served with the late Prime Minister Lester Pearson at Salonika, Greece. Transferred to the Royal Navy, he was injured and invalidated home when his ship collided with another in the English Channel.

Back at the University of Toronto, Dafoe was captain of the hockey, lacrosse and soccer teams. In 1920, his graduation year, he led his teams on tours of the U.S. The following year he turned to coaching and his teams won the Ontario

Hockey Association championship and the Allan Cup.

Dafoe put in five years in post-graduate studies in Toronto, Edinburgh and London and was a senior fellow in gynecology and obstetrics at the University of Toronto before starting a full-time practice.

He was appointed associate professor in 1943 and five years later became head of the department of gynecology and obstetrics at Wellesley Hospital. He resigned in 1955 but continued his private practice for five or six years.

During his 35 years in medicine, he delivered more than 5,000 babies without one maternal death. Though one of the best known specialists in Canada, he had great praise for general practitioners.

"Most people who go to a doctor want consultation, not science, and the GP can give it to them," he said.

He leaves his wife, Helen of Toronto, daughter Frances Melnick and son William Allan.

The late Dr. Dafoe spent many happy years at his cottage on Lake Kashagawigamog.

Grand JuryReport and Recommendations

To the Honourable Mr. Justice Weatherston
May It Please Your Lordship:

We, the Grand Jury empanelled for the sittings of the Supreme Court of the Province of Ontario for the County of Victoria and the Provisional County of Haliburton at Lindsay, report that we have yesterday inspected the following buildings, and beg to submit our findings and the following recommendations:

[1] Provincial Jail, Lindsay, Ontario

We the Grand Jury inspected the entire premises of the jail. We found it clean and in good condition. The staff were co-operative and helpful. Several of the inmates were questioned regarding the adequacy of the Jail facilities and the treatment they were receiving. All comments were favourable.

It was noted by the members of the Grand Jury, however, that ventilation could be improved; that a hand rail was missing from one of the stairways leading to the lowest level of the jail; the bathroom facilities in male cells could be improved; and that the female cell corridors were a little more attractive and liberal than the male quarters.

Nevertheless, all of the inmates interviewed indicated that conditions at the jail were adequate and that they were being fairly treated.

The need for some improvement in indoor recreational facilities was apparent and it is understood that steps are being taken by the administrative staff to endeavour to improve same.

[2] The County Court

House, Lindsay, Ontario

Various improvements in the County Court House buildings were noted and it is the opinion of the Grand Jury that the administration and Council are to be commended for their efforts to date. There is an obvious need to modernize this building; however, it is understood that plans are underway to relocate this building in late 1975.

In the interim, however, it is the consensus of the members of the Grand Jury that the audibility in the Court Room could be improved by the installation of a microphone system for the use of Judges, Justices, Lawyers and others participating in court proceedings.

(3) The members of the Grand Jury felt that it was unnecessary to revisit other public institutions which were just inspected on October 8th, 1974, by the previous Jurors.

Manpower Statistics

During the month of October the Canada Manpower Centre in Peterborough was responsible for placing 560 persons in full time employment throughout its area of responsibility, which includes Peterborough and Haliburton Counties, plus parts of Victoria and Northumberland Counties, including the Town of Campbellford, reports Dick Kenzie, local Manager. This placement activity was 16 percent higher than that of October of 1973, he said. In addition 84 casual placements were recorded.

Twenty-eight wage earners were transferred to other areas, partially as a result of 14 exploratory grants approved under the Canada Manpower Mobility Program. Also during October, 17 other Mobility Grants were made to workers and their families when employment was located in other parts of Ontario.

At month's end there was a total of 3831 clients registered with the CMC as being unemployed and seeking work. 2086 of these clients were women, Mr Kenzie continued, and the total included 148 students seeking part time work after school and on weekends.

During the month Manpower counsellor Robert Johnston was promoted to supervisor and is currently in charge of Manpower Services, including the Manpower Mobility and Retraining Programs.

Mr. Reg. Forbes, formerly a counsellor in Toronto, has transferred to the Peterborough staff and is residing near Campbellford, he concluded.

If you get all the way into winter, you'll get a lot out of T'NT.

Ski-Doo® builds the high-performance T'NT for a special kind of snowmobiler. The rider who's been around.

When you're really into snowmobiling, you spend a lot of time at it. So you need a sled that does more than just go fast. You need comfort, too. And reliability. And good handling, whatever the riding conditions.

T'NT delivers it all. Ski-Doo Performance Engineering makes sure of that.

You get your choice of Rotax-dependable 340 or 440 twin-cylinder engines mounted up front and down low in the chassis for greater stability and better handling.

THE MIDDLE OF THE ROAD

State authorities spend huge sums of money for marking the middle of our highways so traffic can move safely in the desired direction. In addition many road signs are erected to warn of danger zones and directions to certain places. No clear minded person desires to follow a middle of the road driver who not only endangers himself, but also all he comes in contact with. The Lord God has at great cost prepared the road of life for us. He has distinctly divided the pathway of our life into two lanes with opposite goals. Full information is given to us in Holy Writ about both lanes, with definite instruction regarding the destination of either one. The Lord Jesus taught that the road to eternal life is straight and narrow. Likewise He has well informed us that the road to eternal destruction is broad and irregular. Matthew 7: 13-14.

Furthermore, a loving God has plainly given much more warning about the end of the broad road than He has said about the bliss of reaching the goal on the narrow road. So if the danger signs are ignored no one can point a finger at Him for not warning us. The Lord Jesus spared no words to describe the end of the broad road and made it plain that it was for this cause that He left the Glory Land to save those travelling in this direction.

The cross upon which He died as a substitute for sinners is planted in the centre of the road so that all of life's travellers can read and choose their path of travel. There is no middle ground, either we go one direction or the other.

Dangerous indeed are the middle of the road teachers who not only erase the line of warning but persuade others that there is nothing to worry about. Which is the wiser, to believe God and His Word or men?

News from Halls Lake

Mrs William (Lizzie) Johnson, has just returned from a three-week visit to Toronto and Fort Erie where she visited with Mrs Della Johnson, Mrs Marjorie Ferguson and her Grandson. Her twin granddaughters drove her back to Hall's Lake.

Mr. "Bob" White from Stouffville, is visiting his good friends, the Luther Wilsons.

Mrs Dale MacDonald spent the weekend in Burlington attending the christening of their first grand-son.

"Meet the Candidates" Night at Club 35 promises to be an interesting evening, this coming Saturday at 8 pm.

Mrs Turcotte from Toronto visited with Mrs Audrey Wilkinson last weekend.

The Bible Society assisted at the service at St. Stephen's last Sunday. The Rev. Colin Rudd was the speaker.

Several deer and moose have been shot at the various hunting camps this past week. One brave hunter even shot an innocent loon out on the lake!

The Regular Meeting of Club 35 members was held last Wednesday evening. Lack of a quorum prevented holding Election of Officers so considerable time was spent in laying plans for the New Year's Eve Party. Several new names were presented for membership and accepted. Mr. Arthur Hunt was thanked for his tireless efforts in keeping things going over the Summer months with Euchres each Monday evening all year, plus the Bingo sessions on Wednesdays. Carpet Bowling starts soon on Thursday evenings. December 2nd being Election Day there will be no Euchre held that evening. A new member, Mr. Wm. Lindsay has offered to touch up the floor for us so there may be another interruption in games for that, but members will be advised.

Mr Edwin Hewitt expects to spend the winter months with his friends at their farm in Bobcaygeon. Eddie loves to be around horses as he used to own one of the best teams in the country, so we are pleased that he will be warm and happy in his winter abode with his friends, the Eric Thurston family.

Many will be pleased to know that Mr. Lloyd Johnson has been approached to show the beautiful slides that he and the Rev. Andrew Hutchison took in their visit to the Holy Land last year, at Club 35 on the evening of December 12. For those who missed seeing them at Maple Lake and other places or for those who saw them and wish to see them again, put a circle around that date and come along. A friendly cup of tea will be served following the pictures. Silver collection goes toward expenses and producing a second set of these slides so that Andrew also may have pictures to show to his new parishioners. We think these slides will be a wonderful way to remind us of the true meaning of Christmas.

Despite the letters being circulated and suggested slates of people to vote for, we feel some consideration should be given to the present councillors and the work they have been doing. It takes a lot of hard work and "working together" to accomplish anything and we would feel sorry for the Reeve if he faced a new year with all three new councillors with no experience. Everyone has his own thoughts and certainly the privilege of voting for whom he wishes, but let us not forget the experience and frustrations and hours of concern that goes into being a member of any Council or School Board. The men who are at present running are year-round tax payers church goers and supporters and just as interested in saving pennies as anyone else. The Hawk Valley project certainly afforded quite a few local men work when none else was available, thus keeping them off the Welfare list, and although the official plan says it is a camping ground, evidently it is intended only as a picnic site. With Aunt Sarah's Lookout no longer in existence, it is nice to be able to tell people where they can enjoy a picnic and we know some of the Lodges in the area take their guests there in the summer for an outing. None of us wants more traffic going along the Hawk Lake Road with camping trailers etc. as it is a real hazard with ordinary cars now. Small children crossing the road to swim have to run for their very lives. We believe the present council is concerned over this issue too.

Death Notice

DAFOE, William Allan VanDeusen, M.D.; LCMC; FRCS (C); FRCO & G England.

At Toronto, on Tuesday, November 5, 1974, beloved husband of Helen Gibson, father of Mrs. Frances Dafoe Melnick, and William Allan Gibson Dafoe, brother of Mrs. Helen Dafoe Martin, and Mrs. Mary Dafoe Mendizabal. A private family service was held at St. James the Less on November 7.

In Memoriam

FLEMING - In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Annie Fleming, who passed away November 23rd, 1966. God looked around His garden And found an empty space. Then looked down upon this earth And saw your tired face. He put his arms around you And lifted you to rest. God's garden must be beautiful, He only takes the best. Lovingly remembered by daughter Helen, Bernard and family.

STAMP - In loving memory of a dear Father and Grandfather who passed away four years ago, Nov. 19, 1970. God came to stand beside your bed This is what I think He said. "You had more than you could stand Now come with me to a better land." It's lonely here without you, Dad I miss you more each day. For life is not the same to me

Since you were called away. I was not there to see you go, To hold your hand or say good-bye. Perhaps that's just as well I never could have said goodbye To one I loved so well. I will remember my whole life through Those last few words I had with you. Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by daughter Marjorie, son-in-law George and family.

Thank-You
